Experience the Heart of Porcelain Culture

A Walk Through Time, Clay, and Creativity — Discover Jingdezhen in One Day.

Step into Jingdezhen, the porcelain capital of the world.

This private one-day city walk is designed for individuals, couples, and families who love ceramics, art, and Chinese heritage.

With an age requirement of 16+, the tour gives you an immersive introduction to Jingdezhen's past and present ceramic culture.

Morning – Jingdezhen China Ceramic Museum

- What to Expect: China's largest ceramic museum, often described as a "textbook of porcelain history."
- Highlights:
- Exhibits arranged in chronological order, covering over 1,000 years of ceramic development.
- Porcelain masterpieces and rare collections spanning the Tang, Song, Yuan, Ming, and Qing dynasties, as well as modern and contemporary periods.
- In just a few hours, gain a clear, complete, and systematic understanding of China's ceramic history.
- This is the perfect starting point to grasp the cultural depth of Jingdezhen before walking through its living heritage.

Midday – Imperial Kiln Museum & Taoyang Alley

- What to Expect: A landmark preserving 800 years of imperial kiln history.
- Highlights:
- Built on the original royal kiln ruins with remnants of official kilns from the Ming and Qing dynasties.
- Taoyang Alley, a cultural lane adjacent to the museum, keeps alive the atmosphere of the old town.
- This stop offers a fast yet immersive way to explore the historic townscape of Jingdezhen.

Afternoon – Taoxichuan Ceramic Art Avenue

- What to Expect: The most dynamic creative district in Jingdezhen.
- Highlights:
- Vibrant art fair and flea market, where local and international artists exhibit.
- Art studios, ceramic shops, weekend bazaars, cafés, and boutique hotels.
- Year-round hub for exhibitions, conferences, and residencies.
- Every spring and autumn, Taoxichuan hosts major ceramic art fairs.
- Here you can mingle with artists, browse designs, and enjoy Jingdezhen's nightlife with night markets and cafés.
